

Constant Demands for New and Snappy foot-wear well supplied in new arrivals from eastern markets

For months past the public has been awakening to the fact as to the conditions of the leather market. A steady advance in the price of shoes has given cause for general discussion. Our shoe buyer buying just today returned from eastern markets makes the following statement: "Factory after factory are closing their doors and not making a single pair of shoes for want of leather. All price quotations are withdrawn by the leather dealer and it is almost an impossibility to buy shoes."

Shoes will advance—buy shoes early.

Constant demands for new and snappy foot wear, well supplied in our new arrivals from eastern markets.

THIS FARMER MADE FORTUNE OUT OF WHEAT

10,000 BUSHELS BRING $11,000 WILL SPEND WINTER IN CALIFORNIA

Junction City, Kan., Oct. 16—With his 1916 wheat crop of 10,000 bushels profitably marketed for $1,100 and a large portion of his eighteen-quarter section of western Kansas land sown to wheat for next year's harvest, H. Weston of Emporia, Kan., a former Geary county farm boy, is visiting relatives in Junction City and equipping himself for a motor trip to Long Beach, Cal., where he will spend the winter.

Twenty years ago Mr. Weston left Junction City for western Kansas with a pony and several hundred dollars—his total savings. It took him more than a week to make the journey to his destination. Now he covers it in a day in his high-powered touring car. Western Kansas at that time was little more than a desert, but Mr. Weston had faith in it as a wheat growing country. He bought his first land at from $5 to $10 an acre; some of this has sold recently at $75 per acre. One eighty-acre tract that was purchased for $15 per acre this year produced wheat that sold for more than twice the original cost of the land. Mr. Weston, during the past ten years, has sold a considerable portion of his original purchases and has bought other tracts, until now he owns eighteen blocks of 160 acres each.

IRATE HUSBAND RUNS DOWN DELINQUENT WIFE

McAlester, Okla., Oct. 16—An automobile chase led by an irate-husband, which occupied parts of two days and kept the police of two Pittsburg county towns busy during that time, resulted today in the arrest of Henry Schoultz and Mrs. Arline Anderson. Berdsville people, both Schoultz and Anderson were armed when the pursuers overtook the pair in Krebs hotel.

Officers disarmed Schoultz before he realized he was being arrested. Both were released on bond. Schoultz, it is said, came here several weeks ago with his wife and while Mrs. Schoultz was visiting in the country, induced Mrs. Anderson to come down from Bartlesville. Mrs. Anderson has a divorce suit pending.

ATTENTION LADIES!

The season's corset models remain definitely boned—though not heavily—neither are the models extremely high, nor extremely low—medium proportions are the keynote in general—although of course, there is necessarily a variety of proportions to be found—

American Lady Corsets are the last word in style and detail—They distinctly shape the form, affording always that individuality of corsetry so essential to faultless fitting.

We present the season's American Lady styles with pleasure and invite your thorough inspection.

Prices from 50c to $5.00

PLAN 8-HOUR DAY WITHOUT OVERTIME

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 16—An eight hour day, doing away with all overtime, though necessitating employing additional men, is a plan by which the Pennsylvania Railroad company may conform to the Adamson act, should the courts sustain its constitutionality. Operation of the arrangement would compel trainmen whose homes are now at division points either to remove to new division point established by the plan, or else travel to them from their homes in order to make their runs, it is stated. Experts of the Pennsylvania company are said to be working on the contemplated scheme.

MONEY IN BROOM CORN

A prosperity item that suggests a reason why Oklahoma farmers are buying new automobiles comes from the neighborhood of Sayre, away out near the Texas line, adjoining the Panhandle country. There a farmer has just disposed of his broom corn crop at a total of thirteen tons. His check for the crop was $2,570. This sum is claimed to be equal to one-half the value of the average farm in that county.
